Our Ideal Customers

Edit

My ideal customers are small business owners who are frustrated with tech issues slowing down their operations, and individuals who need reliable, affordable computer support. I commonly work with retailers, real estate agents, consultants, healthcare offices, and remote workers across the region.

What businesses can you partner with?

Edit

I partner well with businesses that serve small business owners and home office professionals — such as business coaches, accountants, office supply vendors, VoIP providers, and web designers. If you're working with clients who struggle with technology, I'm a natural referral for you, and I'm happy to refer my clients your way too.
